Turkish Ambassador Cancels His Passage on the Liner Sant' Anna.

Rustem Bey, the Turkish Ambassador who recently announced his voluntary retirement from his post at Washington following complaint on the part of Secretary Bryan against his undiplomatic utterances, finds it hard to leave the United States. After several false starts the Turkish diplomat was booked to sail on the Fabre Line steamship Sant'.

Assa to-day, but at the last minute he cancelled his passage.

Several days ago Rustem Bey, accompanied by a man giving his name at A. McAllister Smith, called at 1 separate at the discovery of this instensible at the discovery

Several days ago Rustem Bey, accompanied by a man giving his name at A. McAllister Smith, called at 1's Fabre Line office and booked passage on the Sant' Anna. The two took i suite together. Early this morning the Turkish Ambassador appeared at the Fabre Line office alone and cancelled his passage. That of Mr. Smith remained uncancelled. Subsequent to Rustem Bey's departure from the steamship office a telephone call came there, requesting to know the bottle and withdraw your deposit. at the Fabre Line office alone and cancelled his passage. That of Mr. Smith remained uncancelled. Subsequent to Rustem Bey's departure from the steamship office a telephone call came there, requesting to know whether one could get reservation for the best suite on the Sant' Anna an hour before she sailed. The steamship druggist can supply you.—Advt.

people thought this unidentified ques-tioner was the Turkish Ambassador.

It is thought the danger of Turkey's imminent incursion into the war with Germany and Austria might have de-terred the retiring diplomat from sali-ing on a French ship.
